SUBJECT: USE OF GOVERNMENT CHANNEL - CABLE TELEVISION

An organization committed to community-wide use of public access, the Cable Access, Inc. Board of Directors urges you to speedily approve cablecasting government programs on the designated government channel, including regular, live coverage of City Council meetings.

Access productions provide the television viewer with an opportunity to become the television producer. Fort Wayne's response to this new concept has been overwhelming! In six short months, the public access studio, housed in the Allen County Public Library, has been swamped with access producers. Local shows, carried over CH 10, have included: Fort Wayne Future meetings, Theatre for Ideas, "A New Generation", a series on Fort Wayne's black community, "Latino Video", a series on the city's Latin-American population, health care programs, original works by local artists, writers and poets, musical productions, religious programming, and local business views.

The Fort Wayne community is interested in video programming about themselves and what they see around them. Access programs do not need large audiences to survive. Instead, access offers communities an opportunity to program for a limited audience; to offer in-depth coverage of public issues not carried by commercial news networks.

Our board voted unanimously at its June meeting to support the efforts of local government, particularly City Counail, to fully utilize the vast potential of the government channel to enlighten, communicate, and educate citizens on local government issues. We know that if the access channels are filled to capacity with relevant and interesting programming, they will develop a viewership - a constituency - that will become valuable to city government in community planning and implementation of city programs.

Dear Vivian and members of the Council,

My attention has been brought to the fact that the Finance Committee has under advisement the cablecasting of the meetings of City Council. This is a matter of some significance in public life and, I believe, deserves the affirmative action of committee and Council.

May I call to your attention that funds are already appropriated for this action and are indicated to be adequate. The public should have the opportunity to view and respond to City Council sessions. If, in the future, experience and response indicates cablecasting is not, for some basic reason, feasible, then a change could be made. Meanwhile, I believe you have an obligation to provide, initially anyway, this service to the residents of Fort Wayne.

Your careful and considered judgement will be appreciated,

Cordially,

PROPOSAL TO THE CITY OF FORT WAYNE

Proposal for the live coverage of Fort Wayne City Council meetings to be cablecast on the government channel with a videotape recording of each meeting to be provided to the city.

Respectfully Submitted,

Ron Smoots

Ron Smoots, President
Pic-Trics Productions, Inc.

Background of Pic-Trics Productions, Inc.

Pic-Trics Productions came into existence August 23rd, 1976. We will be celebrating our fifth anniversary this year. Pic-Trics was the first full-time independent videotape production house in the Fort Wayne area. We seemed to fulfill a need for such a facility, because we billed more in our first year than WANE-TV did with their production facilities in the previous year.

Commercial spot announcements formed the bulk of our business at first, but we soon moved into full length television shows as well. Commercial work was done for nearly every advertising agency in town. A number of our spots won "Addy Awards" at the local advertising club competition as well as on the district level.

I worked out of the basement in my home from August 1976 to June 1979. At that time I bought a building at 1526 West Fourth Street and remodeled it to suit our purposes. We have been in this building since that time.

From the beginning we have added to and upgraded our facilities to keep pace with state of the art 3/4" cassette production equipment, until now we have over $100,000 worth.

Personnel

I took on one full-time production person in May of 1977 as well as a part-time bookkeeper/secretary. The same personnel setup still exists. For remotes and larger productions I hire camerapersons, floor directors, and audiopersons as needed. There are a number of excellent production people available to me for such projects.

The current full-time production person is Michael Ludwig. Michael is a Manchester College graduate in speech and communications. He started working for me last year shortly after his graduation. He is an excellent cameraman and technician. Michael also does all of our audio production work.

Personal Background

My background began as a radio and television major at Indiana University where I was a classmate of Phil Jones of CBS News and Dick Enberg of NBC Sports. While there I was a member of the "Singing Hoosiers" and traveled with them on two USO Tours; one to Japan and Korea in 1956 and one to Germany in 1958.

After graduation in 1959, I worked as a cameraman for WPTA, Channel 21, and in a few months became a director/producer. Everything was "live" in those days. Videotape was not in use until a couple of years later. While at WPTA I directed a live talk show, bingo, kid's shows, newscasts, and panel shows.

I was drafted in August of 1961 and after basic training I was assigned to the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas as a broadcast specialist. My basic duties were to work with their closed circuit television system in video and audio recording. The school was the armed services senior tactical school for captains and above. I once was the only enlisted man in an audience of over one hundred generals from one to four stars; a very unique experience. Also while in the Army, I was chosen to produce a show for the 5th Army for the All Army Entertainment Contest. My co-producer was Carl Gottleib who later was one of the writers for the original Smothers Brothers Show and wrote the screenplays for Jaws I and II.

After the army, I returned to WPTA as a director/producer and again was involved in hundreds of live and taped programs. In November 1963 I moved over to WANE, Channel 15, to become director of the "Ann Colone Show", a live daily talk and variety show. While at WANE I also directed and produced hundreds of newscasts, news specials, documentaries, remotes, telethons, and a variety of specials. After two years with "Ann Colone Show", I became commercial production manager. I remained in that post until I left WANE to create Pic-Trics Productions in 1976.

Basic Services Proposal

Having already covered a couple of the Fort Wayne City Council meetings for Citizen's Cable of Allen County in 1979, it has given me an insight into how the meetings need to be covered. We used two Sony 1600 cameras and a remote switcher and then tied into the existing audio system. The whole thing worked reasonably well; of course, now my cameras are of much better quality.

Equipment

Our basic remote setup consists of two color cameras, a black and white camera for keying graphics, a special effects switcher, a remote five mike audio mixer, and a Sony two track reel to reel for voice-over intros, closes, bridges, etc.

Cameras We have a JVC CY8800 ($20,000) which is identical to the camera used by WKJG for their news department. WKJG has borrowed this camera on more than one occasion when their's was in for repair or when they needed an extra camera for a remote. Our second camera is a JVC KY2000 ($10,000), although this camera was less expensive it compares quite favorably with the CY8800. This is the same camera chosen by the Fort Wayne Public Library for use on Channel 10. Channel 55 uses the same model camera for their production work. The two cameras match amazingly well.

This camera tandem has been used by Pic-Trics for eight months to produce remotes that have appeared on Channel 21, Channel 55, and High School Basketball games, bowling shows, Komet Hilites, and other remotes which run on Channel 25 of the Fort Wayne Cablevision system. Our black and white camera is a high resolution Sony and is used to key graphics over the other two cameras.

Special Effects The special effects generator (switcher) is an Echolab SE2 ($6000) which has a full color capability. This switcher has been used to do all remotes mentioned above. WKJG has borrowed it to produce Christmas Choir Shows on location this past year.

Audio Our audio system consists of a Sony 510 Portable mixer with a five input capability. We use a Sony two track reel to reel for any open, close, bridge or voice-over information we need to introduce.

Lights Our lighting system consists of three 1000 watt Lowell variable focus quartz lights plus two 1500 watt Lowell soft lights.

Fort Wayne City Council Meeting Setup

For the coverage of the first portion of the meetings in Room 126, the conference table area, we would move our cameras to positions on both sides of the conference table half way down the table. That way each camera covers the people on the table opposite it as well as the council president on one end or any guest on the other end. I would plan to use the two 1500 watt soft lights in this area, one on either side. The soft lights are less glaring and thus less distracting to the council members. Because the lights are closer in this area than the original area, using softlights should help. The director and switching equipment would be located at the back of Room 128 in the center aisle, this centrally locates our position for both rooms.

There are audio problems to be overcome in Room 126. Basically, we can tap into the house system and use the existing mikes around the table. However, in attending the meeting on Tuesday evening, April 14, it was immediately obvious to me that the three mikes on each side of the table were not going to adequately cover all people around the table since there were no mikes on either end; none for the council president and none to cover anyone at the guest chair. Sure enough, the first thing that happened was the council president grabbed a mike to pull it over in front of him. There was a large "klunk" and a scraping sound, then the feedback began and lasted until the mike was adjusted. This routine lasted throughout the meeting with people constantly shuffling mikes to be heard with some councilmen ending up with no mike at times. The whole problem could be eliminated with the addition of two mikes, one at each end of the table. Since there are no plugs on the ends, a "Y" connection could be made to accomodate two mikes coming from the nearest plugs on the table. We could supply the two mikes and the "Y" connection for that purpose until the city saw fit to supply them. It should eliminate any mikes having to be moved.

Our coverage of the second portion of the Fort Wayne Council Meetings in Room 128 would have one camera positioned in the center aisle far enough back to cover the entire dais area at one time. This camera could also zoom into shots of anyone speaking from the councilmen's chairs. The other camera would be stationed near the front, along the side aisle, and would be able to cover tight shots of all council members as well as being able to swing to the audience or to a one shot of anyone at the question mike at the front of the center aisle. Both cameras are on dollies and therefore can be varied to suit our purposes. Lighting for this area could be accomplished with the three 1000 watt lights, two on the dais and one on the question area.

Using our black and white camera to key names, dates, and other information over the regular video is not a special feature, but a normal part of our facilities. With a few hours of warning, visuals can be made up to help viewers understand what certain bills being discussed are all about.

Bill numbers would be incorporated for reference.

We would be operating with a basic crew of five; two cameramen, a floorman, an audioman, and a director. We would require at least two twenty watt circuits to accomodate all lights and switching equipment. We would prefer an extra circuit to prevent any possibility of an overload, causing the breakers to open. I believe that there are already two circuits immediately available in this area. We would supply all power cables.

We would expect the city to provide at its cost access to the modulator from our special effects generator. This could require a switching arrangement in the room where the modulator is located. This audio-follow-video switcher would have inputs to accomodate the following sources:

1. our switcher and audio board
2. your data caster and audio from radio station
3. videotape playback equipment that will play recorded meetings, messages from the mayor, etc.
4. a TBC for best signal transmission

Eventually, you will probably need all these things to properly program the City Government Channel. The audio-follow-video switcher allows you, at your discretion, to punch from your data caster at the proper moment to a button that puts our switcher into the system for live programming. You then would switch back to the data caster at the end of the cablecast. It would also allow you to roll videocassettes and put them on the Government Channel with a push of a button. The TBC is a device that cleans up the TV signal from all of these sources and puts them all in sync.

The original cost of all this might be somewhat high, but you will need it sooner or later. The following is a suggested setup with approximate cost.

Vicon Switcher	$1200
(2) JVC 5500 Tape Handlers	4400
Edutron 2 HL TBC	6000	$11,600

I suggest 2-3/4" cassette players because you may need to go from tape to

- that we can go from your datacaster to live cablecasts however, you will have a "sync roll" and a "pop" when the switch occurs.

I would suggest the following formula for handling the videotape recording, the playback of the cassettes, and the storing for the record of those cassettes. For best quality recording, the meetings should be recorded on 3/4" cassette, which is the normal way for us to do it. The drawback is that 3/4" will only record one hour and then the cassette must be changed. However, I think with due judgement, we could stop recording to change tapes at a lull in the proceedings. It only takes less than twenty seconds to change a tape. Our chances of missing anything important are very small and we gain quality for this inconvenience. Any playback of the recorded meeting should be played on these 3/4" tapes. At a later time, perhaps one week later, these tapes could be transferred to 1/2" Beta or VHS format cassettes to be kept by the city for a record of that meeting. After being transferred, the original 3/4" recording tape could be reused, thus saving a considerable amount of money over a years time. The 1/2" in tapes are much cheaper and take up less storage space. The only other alternative is to record originally on a 1/2" machine, but the loss in quality could be significant.

Open and Close

The open and close of the Fort Wayne City Council Meetings would be something like the following copy:

OPEN

Key over city seal: Fort Wayne City Council October 24 Meeting	Voice Over: The following cablecast is live from the City Council Chamber.

VIDEO	AUDIO
Key over city seal: Fort Wayne City Council October 24 Meeting	Voice Over: This has been a live presentation of the October 24 meeting of the Fort Wayne City Council. This meeting has been recorded and will be replayed on this channel Thursday at 7 p.m. optional: Production facilities were provided by Pic-Trics Productions, Inc.

For later playback, the open and close could be changed immediately following the meeting to eliminate the reference to "live".

Special Features

It is possible to do a review/preview type of program outlining what has occurred in the previous city council session and what is likely to be acted on in the upcoming council session according to the agenda. This program would have to be co-ordinated with, perhaps, the city clerk's office; with either the city clerk or his representative being on camera giving this information. Perhaps, excerpts could be lifted from the previous week's videotapes and edited into the program to lend interest to the program. These pieces would be edited in. The city clerk's presentation would include a very brief explanation of each item on the upcoming agenda, graphics could be added.

The biggest problem to overcome would the time factor. Would we be able to get the show together in time to run previous to the live cablecast of the Tuesday council meeting? If the clerk's office portion of the program could be taped shortly after noon each Tuesday, there would be no problem. We would do this program for $150.

Publicity for Cablecasts

The promotion for the live coverage of council meetings can be easily enhanced with the incorporation of professionally edited promotion spots within the programming of Cablevision Channel 25, which Pic-Trics Productions, Inc. is currently supplying programming for. It would appear also on the datacaster that runs on Channel 25 during non-program periods. Some of the programming on Channel 25 includes SAC High School Football and Basketball games; Beat Your Average, a local bowling show; and entertainment and music shows. The promotion would be free to the city.

Videotape Playback

It may be of some value to the city to have someone totally familiar with playback equipment and programming a cable channel to handle the playing of the tapes on the Government Channel. As I have mentioned previously, you may wish to play these tapes back on 3/4" cassette. Since sixty minutes is the maximum length for 3/4", there will be more than one tape per session; probably three. There really should be someone familiar with cueing and playing tapes smoothly to handle that chore. Pic-Trics would handle that once per day, or however often you want to schedule the playbacks, for $25 per hour.

Base Bid: $325 per meeting

Includes: Setup and take down time plus up to five hours of live coverage of Fort Wayne City Council Meetings. Also includes cost of videotape cassettes if city takes our suggestion of using 1/2" VHS format for their record keeping purposes. If 3/4" cassette is to be used, cost would be $25 more per session.

Alternate #1: Cost per hour for special sessions $100. Includes tape costs.

Alternate #2: Special Features

Review/Preview Show	$150 per show
Playback of programs for city	$25 per hour

Discount: Pic-Trics Productions, Inc. allows a 2% discount for all invoices paid within ten days.

To Whom It May Concern:

My company is a full service marketing company that works in the Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, South Bend, and Grand Rapids markets. We handle the advertising, public relations, and promotion for the specialty division and hotel division of Azar's Inc. These divisions include Captain Alexander's Wharf and Moonraker in Fort Wayne, Captain Alexander's Moonraker in South Bend, the Back 40 Junction in Decatur, the Fort Wayne Marriott Inn, and the Grand Rapids Marriott Inn. My company also handles Instant Copy of Indiana which has stores in Fort Wayne, Warsaw, Goshen, Elkhart, Mishawaka, and South Bend. In the promotion field, we promote the Azar Great American Hot Air Balloon Race, and several trade shows each year at Southtown Mall and University Park Mall in Mishawaka, Indiana. In addition, my company works on special projects for Hook Drugs based in Indianapolis.

Over the last four years, it has been my pleasure to work on several television commercials and full length television shows with Pic-Trics Productions and its owner, Ron Smoots. These full length television shows include six "Breakfast With Santa" produced on location from Southtown Mall, several Jim Gerard Shows produced in Fort Wayne, Auburn, Marion, Berne, Huntington, Merrillvillle, and Indianapolis. And every year we have used the services of Pic-Trics Productions to produce a half-hour television show on the Azar Great American Hot Air Balloon Race.

In all the production work my company has done with Mr. Smoots and Pic-Trics Productions, it has been my experience to find that Pic-Trics produces the most professional looking video productions that can be found throughout the entire state of Indiana. Pic-Trics Productions will produce what my company and my clients want in the video field and do it with the least amount of problems and headaches possible.

I would highly recommend Pic-Trics Productions for any television production that might be needed.

Sincerely yours,

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I have known Ron Smoots, Pic Trics Productions, since the start of his production company.

During that time he has been easy to work with, particular in his productions, and has made every effort to do an outstanding job.

He has produced many commercials for a variety of clients, some of them have been aired by this station. If a problem existed in his work he sought out the reason and corrected it.

Ron has always been a gentleman and honorable person. I consider it a privilege to be associated with him.
